2014 FOREVER FAITHFUL CAMPOREE

Volume 5, Issue #3—THURSDAY

DAILY DEVOTIONAL

When I was young, around 20 or 21 years old, the Spanish government called me to serve for a year in the Marines. One of the first weekends in the Marines we were taken to the woods to be trained. It was a very intense and difficult training. I will never forget the many difficulties we faced that weekend, but there is one in particular that I would like to share with you.

It was early in the morning; we were all put in line to get food and water for the day—not much food and only one liter of water for the entire day. We were we had to learn was to ration the water. We activities starting early in the morning. During one of those activities, a mate worried and went to talk with the Corporal to ask for another liter. To his surprise, the response was: "You had one liter and you lost it. No more water until tomorrow." The rest of the group decided to take turns sharing little sips of water with him throughout the day so his suffering would not be that terrible and so we would not run out of water ourselves. I learned that day how terrible it can be to run out of water to drink.

Just as the physical body needs water to to eternal life'" (vs. 13,14).

My friend, if you are thirsty, go to Jesus. He is the only one able to satisfy the thirst of your soul. You're going to spend several days here making new friends, earning new honors, trading new pins...but the most important thing I want you to find in this Camporee is your friend Jesus.

May God be with you at the Camporee and every day of your life until Jesus comes again.

Jonatan Tejel

continue living, so does the spirit. Jesus is the water needed by the spiritual part of man. Without Jesus, the soul will eventually die. The soul is thirsty and we try to quench that thirst with many things that satisfy for a little while, but eventually we get thirsty again. The only thing that can truly fulfill the thirst of the spirit is the living water, Jesus Christ. I really encourage you to read John 4:1–38. You will find Jesus talking with a Samaritan woman at a well. Jesus shared with this woman some of the most meaningful words you can find in the gospel, "Jesus answered, 'Everyone who drinks this water will be thirsty again, but whoever drinks the water I give them will never thirst. Indeed, the water I give them will become in them a spring of water welling up

World Church Leader Visits Camporee

General Conference President Ted Wilson and his wife Nancy visited Oshkosh Camporee on Wednesday afternoon. After eating lunch with the Triadelphia Conference and celebrating Nancy's birthday with a rendition by Pathfinders of "Happy Birthday" in German, French and English, Wilson visited the Pathfinder Discovery Center and Museum. That evening he also participated in baptisms and made an appearance at the evening program.

Though President Wilson was a member of the Takoma Park Pathfinder Club as a child, this is his first International Camporee. He was impressed from the moment he entered the campground, saying it seemed "well organized—but vast!" As he traveled by golf cart from one appointment to another, he graciously took time from his busy day to answer a few questions.

What is your message for Pathfinders at this camporee?

Being forever faithful isn't just about being faithful in your personal life-it's about being faithful in telling people about God too. Jesus is coming very soon, and the Lord is depending on these thousands of Pathfinders to help Him share that special message.

What's your favorite part of the story of Daniel?

My favorite part is Daniel in the Lion's Den! And my second favorite part, of course, would be their standing for principles in terms of diet and godly conduct. That's a wonderful demonstration of young people who pay allegiance to the Lord.

What's your message for all Pathfinders, even those who couldn't come to Camporee? All the training and the exciting things that happen at Pathfinders are not just only for having a great time, but also for preparing Chelsea and Bri Hartin, identical twins, are both playing Iltani in the Daniel production. Chelsea plays young Iltani, and Bri is the older, storytelling version of the character.

They learned about the Oshkosh production last summer when working as counselors at Cohutta Springs youth camp in Georgia. The writer for their camp dramas is Andrew Strong, who also wrote the Daniel production, and so when a casting call went out for twins, he invited them to audition.

Chelsea and Bri live in Maine, and the day audition tapes were due they were flying home. They landed at 8 p.m., and had until midnight to memorize, film and submit their audition. They decided to record their monologue in unison, and after seemingly endless takes, they finally submitted it five minutes before midnight.

During second semester this past school year, they learned they had been cast as Iltani-a character they had never heard of. "We didn't think it was a big part," Bri explains, "so we said, "Oh, we're in the play!" and didn't make a big deal of it. "Then we got the script and we said, "Oh, we're in the play."

The twins have loved rehearsals, befriending the cast members and learning about different aspects of the character from each other's performances. "We were just pumped that we got to do it together," says Bri. "If we can do things together rather than apart, that's great. I'm her biggest fan, and she's my biggest fan."

Playing two versions of the same character has also inspired a lot of jokes. Chelsea's costume involves beautiful flowing robes, but when the script describes older Iltani, it calls her "an old hag, dressed in rags." When they're getting dressed, Bri will often say, "You look great! And I...look like a hag." Chelsea corrects her. "We just say that I'm the immature Iltani and she's the distinguished Iltani. That way you don't have the negative connotations."

Though Iltani is a character created for the production, both girls agree that she can still teach incredibly valuable lessons. "She's searching," Chelsea explains. "She's a relatable character because she is every man, every woman, asking the hard questions and searching for truth."

"I hope also," Bri adds, "that they can walk away knowing that it's alright to struggle sometimes it's alright to ask those questions but it's not okay to stop there."

Ultimately, they agree that they hope audience members find their faith strengthened and their lives changed by the production. "If people have been changed by drama productions," Chelsea says, "who can claim that that's not a witnessing tool? Nobody can argue the value of a changed life."

Soon after Camporee, the girls will return to Southern Adventist University, where they are both studying nursing. They hope to eventually become nurses in the mission field. "It would be sweet if we went to the same place," says Chelsea, "but we're not going to put God in a box and say that we have to go together."

In their spare time, Chelsea and Bri enjoy basketball, softball, adventure sports and children's ministry. They don't have everything in common, though-Bri likes to draw and Chelsea likes to write. Bri's favorite Bible verse is Ecclesiastes 3:11: "Everything is beautiful in its own time." Chelsea's is Proverbs 3:5-6: "Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to him, and he will make your paths straight."

Sabbath Investiture Information

An investiture will take place Sabbath, August 16, at the main stage. Each candidate needs to bring their investiture supplies to the Sabbath morning service, which begins at 9:30 a.m. and will end around 10:45 a.m.

Each investee is responsible to provide their scarf, slide, pins, etc. The investiture service will begin at approximately 9:55 a.m. and end around 10:05 a.m.

The investing/pinning will take place after Pastor Jonatan Tejel presents an investiture challenge to the Pathfinders. All Master Guide, Pathfinder Instructor Award and Pathfinder Leadership Award candidates will be invested at the same time in the arena area with their clubs. Please be sure you have arranged for a current Master Guide to pin you.

Advent Source has put together an investiture packet that will contain a personalized investiture certificate signed by GC, NAD and Camporee leadership as well as a souvenir pin. It will be provided free of charge to all who registered online prior to June 15. It will cost $10 for all those who registered after this date.

The cutoff date in order to receive this packet was July 18. Everyone who registered prior to July 18 needs to go to the Advent Source booth in Hangar A with a photo ID to pick up his or her packet. After this date, candidates can still apply to be invested and will be invested like anyone else, but a certificate or souvenir pin will not be guaranteed.

Earn the Prayer Honor!

Pathfinders and Directors, earn the Prayer honor! Here's how it works: There are 8 requirements in all. With your club, complete requirement #5 in the box on the right. Then, for the next two days, look for the requirements in this newspaper. You should be able to complete each day's requirement with your Pathfinders during club worships or during other club meeting times. For a list of the other four requirements, open the QR code to the right, or visit the Revival and Reformation booth (Hangar A, #1101), and commit with your Pathfinders to complete those requirements after the camporee. (They require more time than what you can do here at the camporee.)

Directors: On Friday, August 15, go to the Revival and Reformation Booth (Hangar A, #1101) to get the Prayer Honor Completion Cards for those who have completed the Prayer honor requirements.

"Again I say to you that if two of you agree on earth concerning anything that they ask, it will be done for them by My Father in heaven. For where two or three are gathered together in My name, I am there in the midst of them." Matthew 18:19, 20

This honor is sponsored by the Revival and Reformation initiative of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. For more resources, visit RevivalandReformation.org.

Prayer Honor Requirement #5:

As a group or with a friend discuss:

- a. What do you think prayer is?
- b. Why do you believe prayer is important?
- c. Do you think a person can be a Christian and not pray?

Prayer Focus: Pray for God to use you in a mighty way to serve Him and prepare others for His soon return.

Have Wheels, Will Travel

Shortly after noon on Tuesday, 14 people entered Camporee grounds at the West Gate after a journey of 800 miles from Asheville, North Carolina. They certainly hadn't traveled the farthest of anyone at Oshkosh—but they're the ones who came the furthest on their own power.

Cathy New, 64, is one of the leaders of Bike for Life, a sponsored cycling ministry of the Carolina Conference. Together with ten other riders between the ages of 13 and 76 and three support staff who followed with a van and a trailer full of supplies, Cathy spent over two weeks riding road bikes from Asheville to Oshkosh. While many individuals on the team were making the trip for the first time, this is the third time a group has biked to Oshkosh from North Carolina since the Discover the Power Camporee in 1999.

In order to prepare for the trip, the group trained for two months. Anyone who wanted to ride had to be at least 13 years old, and pass two qualifying runs to prove that they could keep up and stay in formation. For many of the cyclists, this summer was their first time on road bikes. "I've done bike-a-thons for school and stuff," says Jordan Zinke, 13, "but nothing like this. Road bikes are easier. You don't have as much friction against the road."

David Zinke, Jordan's father, also started biking long distance for this trip. He was lead rider for most of the trip, and fell in love with road biking. "I don't know if Jordan's going to hold up, but I'm hooked!" he says. "I'll be joining local rides in Greenville, North Carolina after we're done."

Both during the ride and beforehand, the group encountered several challenges. In December, Cathy fractured her left tibia and had to have surgery. Five months later, while training, she hit a dog while on her bike and ended up in the hospital having surgery for a fractured collarbone, four broken ribs and a punctured lung. "I wasn't even sure if I was going to get to ride, which would be a problem, since I'm a leader. But I healed up and I did—I rode every day."

During the trip, they biked over a lot of difficult terrain—at one point, they did three miles straight at an eight percent grade (quite steep in cycling terms). "The North Carolina Mountains," Cathy says, "were the most difficult—and the most beautiful." Another day later in the trip, they covered 100 miles in one day! After that, David says, the last 20 miles from Fond du Lac to Oshkosh on Tuesday felt pretty light.

The trick to handling the long or hard stretches, David explains, is motivating yourself. "It's a mental game. The training kicks in—you get in position, you breathe in synch with the pedals, you play these mental games...there was one where you pick a tree and you picture you're a rubber

To pass the time while they biked, they often sang. "It used up a lot of breath," says Jordan, "but it was worth it!"

band shooting you towards the tree. You just keep shooting rubber bands to get up that hill—like Spiderman!"

They also faced issues with weather. On Monday, it started to rain just as the path changed from asphalt to "sandy, really fine pea gravel. It got wet, and stuck, so we all looked like snowmen—we were just covered in sand. It was inside our clothes, inside our shorts, inside our gears. But God is so amazing—when we pulled into the church where we were spending the night, the first thing we saw was this beautiful green garden hose coiled up right in front of the church with a spray nozzle on it. So we could clean off our bikes—and ourselves!"

Most of the time, though, the biggest enemy was simply boredom. "All we do is eat, sleep and ride," Cathy says. "And do dishes!" To pass the time while they biked, they often sang. "It used up a lot of breath," says Jordan, "but it was worth it!"

Other times, when biking through the woods, they would see wildlife. "When we were riding downhill with a tailwind," David says, "we'd see birds of prey flying, and we'd be going slightly faster than they were, so they'd just seem to be floating gracefully along."

Ultimately, Cathy says the trip was a fantastic adventure for everyone involved, and a great friendship building experience. "We really bonded more and honed our skills, because we had so many miles to cover that we had to depend on each other to keep that tight formation so we could draft each other and be successful."

Next year, the team is thinking of biking the Blue Ridge Parkway. "I'd like to ride across the United States!" says Elodie Manalo. "That'd be cool!

"We are really proud of these kids," says Cathy. "They're absolutely amazing." If anyone is interested in learning to bike long distances, she encourages them to do so. "I'm 64," she says. "If I can do it, you can too."

Korean Cultural Adventure

Camporee has visitors from more than 100 countries, and one of the best ways to learn about those countries is to experience them hands-on. On Wednesday morning, Korean Pathfinders hosted the first of six Cultural Adventures at the International Pavilion. The week's other countries are Mexico, Puerto Rico, Trinidad & Tobago, Eastern Africa, and Southern Africa. At each event, there is a photo zone, play zone, story & honor zone, and performance zone where visitors can play, learn and explore.

At the Korean Cultural Experience guests watched traditional Korean drumming and dancing. They could also try out many different traditional Korean games: "tuho," where players throw arrows into containers, "yutnori," a board game using special sticks to dictate moves, "jegichagi," similar to hacky-sack and "kung ge," in which they throw colorful blocks in the air and make predictions about how they'll land. There was also a station where people could make floral crafts, and one where they could learn to use chopsticks. Visitors could also try on beautiful traditional Korean clothing and take photos, and there was plenty of pumpkin candy to taste.

"I really liked using the chopsticks, says Kara Herrera, from the Loma Linda Filipino Club, California. "The different games were really cool!" "My favorite part was the beads from the art station," says Janelle Kim, from the Scenic Hill Jaguars, Texas. Dozens of Pathfinders exchanged contact information, played games together, and took pictures, enjoying the chance to make friends and learn about a different culture.

What does it take to register 47,000 people?

Some of the first faces that intrepid Pathfinders see on their way into the International Camporee are those behind the booths of the registration building. Before they can make it to their campsite and make new friends, they have to make a visit to get registered. Registration for this year's event is handled by The Center for Youth Evangelism, and today we were able to talk to Dileanny Guada, the registration coordinator, about the joys and challenges of her position.

"I've been working at CYE for a little over a year now," she says. "We have an amazing team. Karaçan, our volunteer coordinator, her assistant Daileen...We also have people that are bilingual."

Despite the accolades, Guada is very candid about the difficulties of coordinating an event of this magnitude. As opposed to previous Camporees, FFIC has a much higher turnout. "This is the first camporee that we have probably more than 47,000 people coming, so it's a challenge," she says. "But we did a lot of preparation and we are pleased with how everything has turned out. It wouldn't be possible without all the people that help us."

When asked how the team tackles the big issues and the sheer amount of people, Guada responds, "Every day at the office, we had worships [and] we communicated. We're the kind of team that, any decision that needed to be made, we made it together as a team. That's key. First things first, you pray, you ask God to help you. If He calls you to do something, you can be sure that He's going to give you the ability to fulfill that."

Even though registration seems to only serve a practical function, Guada views it as more than that. "It's a ministry. When you work with people, anything is a ministry. God called us to serve people, and we're just glad that we have that chance to do what He's asked us to do. We've prepared for five years to put it all together. It's like a puzzle, and everybody does something. We feel that God has been with us throughout the entire experience."

Even after only a short time in Wisconsin, Guada says that she's having a great time, and has opportunities to see amazing things in her position. "We love everything about Oshkosh. There's a lot going on here. People have been impressed with the system that we're using this year. We got organized, we prepared for the registration, we prepared to smile at the people. We're the first people that they see when they come in. And it's a really nice expereicence to talk to them. To hear how they've prepared to come here."

When asked what her goal was for this week, Guada replied, "...The theme for this year, Forever Faithful: that's our prayer every day. To remain forever faithful. And no matter what happens, or how blurry things get, to know that God is always there for us, and that everything is going to turn out for the best."

Want to send a postcard from Oshkosh? Forever Faithful postcards available at the post office starting Wednesday noon. All shower houses are open 24 hours a day. Shower trailers are open from 5:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and 4–11 p.m. Shower monitors need to make sure they are on time to monitor the shower trailers and houses, and stay until the next shift of monitors arrive. If there are no monitors, shower trailers/houses will be closed.

FFIC SOCCER TOURNAMENT

Tuesday was the first day and kick-off for FFIC Soccer Tournament. We are delighted to have all the teams registered participating in this exciting event. There was some misunderstanding of times and some thought the games were to start on Wednesday. However, those who played on Tuesday and won will advance to the next day and those who joined in Wednesday will play to the end until eliminated. The Ghanaian team scored the highest, winning 10 to 0 on the field. Every team exhibited commendable Christian sportsmanship and no one was injured, thank God. We encourage every team to warm up with their coaches first, huddle for prayer and meet the referees for further instructions. We are located at the YMCA on 20th Street. The games will begin every day at 10 a.m. and run until 4 p.m.

Special Feature: We are hosting the FFIC 2014 World Cup starting Thursday afternoon for qualifying and finals on Friday morning at 10 a.m. We are asking that all Unions please send their best team (even those who may have lost during single matches in the week (club vs. club) and assemble Union teams of 11 members in total (including goal tender). We need to have all teams present for Thursday after lunch to begin qualifying games. We ask for your support and participation in this unforgettable experience! If you have further queries please see the Ontario Conference HQ at the CN Tower (Canadian Union). Thank you and see you on the field!

HUMANS OF OSHKOSH

"We see people evangelizing in different ways, and we wanted to be different also, so we did it by miming. ... When we was smaller, we was always into dancing. So we bought a DVD of our role models. We thought what they did was cool, so we just went off what they did." Ypsilanti Navigators, DLJ Mime, Michigan

"We actually make our own apple cider." Hannah Mott, King Conquerors, Atlantic Union

A: "We don't believe in buying pins, and we don't go to the professional traders, so we do pins because we want to meet people from different unions, so we try to get the unions first, and then get all the pins in the unions."

Q: "So you use this as kind of a bonding thing?"

A: "Yeah, and it's our trophy to take home."

Grace Arnold and the Mt. Calvary Rockets,
Huntsville Alabama

"The point is trade your pins, but just have fun. We come here...only once every five years. If you have pins, trade your pins. If you don't have pins, don't worry about it. The main point is to enjoy."

Emmanuel DeLeon and Isaias Mendes

your character for what God wants you to do to tell people that He loves them and He's coming back very soon. That's what Pathfinders is really all about—showing people the path to Him.

How can kids get involved in the church even if they feel like they're too young to preach or teach or lead?

One of the most important things you can do is witness for the Lord in your own daily experience as you come in contact with people. One of the most remarkable witnesses can be when younger people are very courteous, very God-fearing, and older people really notice that. When they see someone who's really polite and who seems to have objectives in life pretty well understood, it really makes a big impact. I would say to young people wherever they are, "Just do your best through God's power wherever God puts you, and the Lord will use you in a tremendous way." Daniel certainly wasn't very old when he got taken to Babylon, and he stood up for the Lord and the king noticed.

How does Pathfinders help kids stay close to God as they grow up?

First of all, Pathfinders focuses on the importance of God's word and also understanding how young people can relate to the biblical principles that make life a much better place in which to function. Another really important part of Pathfinders is service—leading out and actually doing something for someone else in the name of Jesus. That is probably one of the best ways in which to keep people closely tied to Him-give them something exciting to do, and they will never forget that trust. We believe in young people, and we want them to know it.

One of the most important aspects of the church coming to the very end of the time when the Lord will return, is that this church was started by young people, and it will be finished by young people. Young people have a great opportunity to be part of this wonderful Advent Movement. Don't ever let anyone tell you you're not an important part.

Earn the Prayer Honor!

Pathfinders and Directors, earn the Prayer honor! Here's how it works: There are 8 requirements in all. With your club, complete requirement #6 in the box on the right. Then, tomorrow, look for the last two requirements in this newspaper. You should be able to complete each day's requirement with your Pathfinders during club worships or during other club meeting times. For a list of the other five requirements, open the QR code to the right, or visit the Revival and Reformation booth (Hangar A, #1101), and commit with your Pathfinders to complete those requirements after the camporee. (They require more time than what you can do here at the camporee.)

Directors: On Friday, August 15, go to the Revival and Reformation Booth (Hangar A, #1101) to get the Prayer Honor Completion Cards for those who have completed the Prayer honor requirements.

"Heavenly beings are appointed to answer the prayers of those who are working unselfishly for the interests of the cause of God. The very highest angels in the heavenly courts are appointed to work out the prayers which ascend to God for the advancement of the cause of God. Each angel has his particular post of duty, which he is not permitted to leave for any other place. If he should leave, the powers of darkness would gain an advantage." SDA Bible Commentary, vol. 4, p. 1173

This honor is sponsored by the Revival and Reformation initiative of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. For more resources, visit RevivalandReformation.org.

Prayer Honor Requirement #6:

Individually or as a group, examine the two versions of the Lord's Prayer (Matthew 6:9-13 and Luke 11:2-4) found in the gospels.

- a. What are the differences?
- b. When might one of the versions be more appropriate than the other in your spiritual life?
- c. Why do you think the Lord's Prayer is important to Christianity? To you?

Prayer Focus: Pray that the Pathfinders will be a positive witness of Christ's love to the Oshkosh community.
